PHILOSOPHY FROM FLO

Florence Stillman, R.N., MSN
Executive Director

Now that the firing has ceased and the smoke is settling around the Capitol, its time to revisit that skirmish, assess casualties, and record wins and losses. There will be other battles, that fact we know from past experience, but my memories of past action are always that nothing quite equalled the one most recently fought.

The Legislative session which ended May 15, 1992 can be characterized in several ways. For me, it was the busiest of the eight which I have experienced but it was also disappointing in that only a few of the bills the Board of Nursing was attempting to influence positively were successful in passing both the House and Senate.

The Administrative Rules legislation, SB469, which will allow the Board of Nursing to make non-binding opinions on practice questions and also be able to publish those opinions without filing them as official rules is on the Governor's desk awaiting his signature. He has until midnight, July 14, to sign all bills into law, to exercise his veto power or to leave bills unsigned. (bills automatically become law if he fails to sign and does not veto)

During the last days of the session SB573 was combined with SB634 and contains language against elder abuse. Within that legislation is also the following:

"no physician or pharmacist licensed in this state shall be subject to discipline for authorizing, assisting or cooperating with other health care professionals licensed in this state who are practicing their profession within the scope of their license."

This particular language was proposed by a group of health care related individuals and was added as an amendment to the bill primarily through the efforts of MONA. It is intended to be some assistance in solving the problem surrounding advanced nursing practice and conflicting interpretations by the Board of Nursing, Board of Healing Arts and Pharmacy Board of their Practice Acts. HB573/634 is now also on the Governor's desk awaiting its fate.

The proposed legislation which commanded a great deal of my time and attention was the bill to legalize lay-midwifery. Each year that legislation is offered, it progresses a little farther and as it progresses it requires a more concerted effort to prevent it from passing into law. During the final hours of this last session lay-midwifery language was amended to several other bills including the major drug bill. I believe the amendment of that language was instrumental in killing the drug bill which contained several excellent portions including authority to establish and/or participate in a peer assistance program.

Next years skirmishes will include many of those legislative interests that failed this year. No doubt lay-midwifery will be back and probably stronger than ever. This Board will again push peer assistance and we still very much need subpoena power, the ability to renew licenses biennially and expedited hearings to assist with disciplinary matters. I'm sure all of those will require a great deal of time and attention.

If you are not or have not ever been politically active the profession could benefit greatly from your doing so. There are only a few of us who participate in the skirmishes centered around health care, the needs of this Board and nursing issues in general. Its difficult to take the bullets fired and feel the effects of hits from the other side without saying "Where are all the nurses?" There are almost 77,000 licensed nurses in Missouri and a mere handful are fighting the battles. What influence and power we could have if we could cease being apathetic and begin to function as an organized, caring group! The battles would not be nearly so tough, we would achieve far more. In terms of personal gain, I would not be so battle weary at the end of each session and each of you could have a feeling of personal accomplishment and satisfaction that you had contributed to your profession. Action that you could take immediately that requires little effort is to write to the Governor urging him to sign both SB469 and SB573/634 for the benefit of the nursing profession. If large numbers of letters are received from you the voters, they command a great deal of attention and respect. Do it today! The difference between apathetic and pathetic is only one letter!

VISIT WITH VADA

Vada Arrowood, R.N., M.S. Ed
Assistant Director for Education and Licensure

The State Board of Nursing has never contended that the licensure examination is anything more than a measure of candidates ability to enter nursing as a minimally safe, competent, entry-level practitioners. However, several years ago it was determined that examination scores were being used to make inferential statements regarding the quality of educational programs or the desirability of newly licensed nurses. One example of inappropriate use of NCLEX results was the selection for employment between newly licensed nurses was sometimes based upon the highest examination scores attained. Another example was that some schools were implying the quality of their program by the scores their graduates attained. However, the only appropriate inference relevant to licensure examination results is that the school is meeting its commitment of preparing entry-level graduates. The results are not a standard of achievement other than the school's graduates are prepared to pass an examination measuring minimum levels of competency. It is certainly not a measure of the effectiveness, quality nor the scope of the program. With these considerations in mind the National Council of State Boards of Nursing made the decision to no longer report NCLEX results in a score format but rather as Pass/Fail.

The transition from attained scores to pass/fail has not diminished the expectations of the Boards of Nursing. Schools continue to be held to the same standard of 80% success on NCLEX for first-time writers as the minimum level of acceptance. This comes from the Missouri Statutes, Chapter 33, The Nurse Practice Act. Missouri schools of nursing feel a sense of pride in attaining this standard however, they look to a 100% success rate as the ultimate sense of pride.

Even though NCLEX does not measure the quality of an education program I can not help feeling a sense of pride when I compare Missouri's schools/program's first-time writing candidates success with those of the national results. Missouri repeatedly exceeds the national percentages of success rates on NCLEX. I have prepared two tables to exhibit this in graphic representation.

Table 1; NCLEX - PN administration depicts a five-year report period from 1987 to 1991. Within each year two examination sessions are reported. The first examination occurs in April and is represented by a four (4) and the second examination occurs in October and is represented by a ten (10). With the exception of 4/88 and 4/89 Missouri practical nursing programs surpassed the national percentage rate of success for first-time writers of NCLEX-PN.

Table 2; NCLEX - RN administration depicts the same report period from 1987 to 1991. Two examination sessions are reported. The first examination occurs in February (2) and the second in July as represented by a seven (7). From the graph it is quickly apparent that Missouri professional schools of nursing surpassed the national percentages every year of this report period. Further, these figures include a change in the licensure test-plan.

Regardless of the limitations previously discussed I believe we can and should be proud of this report! This certainly is one of the occasions that nurse educators should celebrate collectively. This is not to say that schools/programs teach the test however, the basis for NCLEX is a national job analysis of newly licensed nurses. The knowledge, skills and abilities included in the examination reflect the competencies required of new nurses to enter practice. Graduates have the expectation of being prepared to pass this examination. Missouri nurse educators have the right to celebrate a report that exhibits the achievement of success on this expectation.

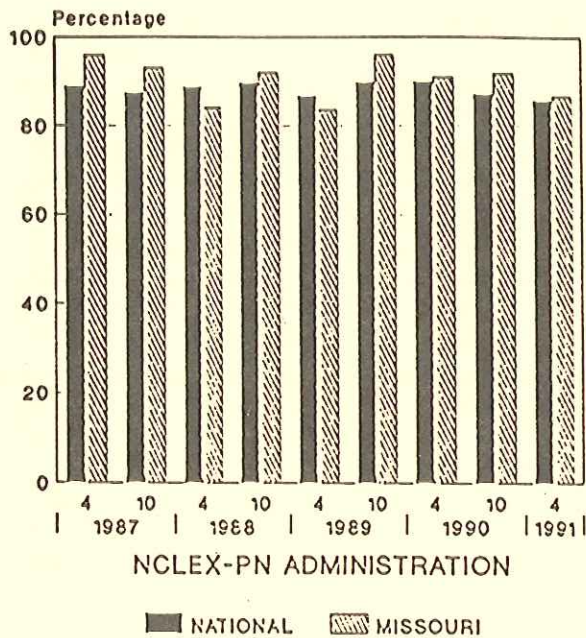

I CONGRATULATE ALL OF MISSOURI'S SCHOOLS OF NURSING.

JULY '92 EXAM

This July we are anticipating a very large RN exam. So far there are over 1800 candidates scheduled to test. Because of the size of this exam the office will be operating with a very small number of personnel while the majority of the staff will be assisting in Springfield at the test site. Due to this we ask that you limit your calls to the office unless you consider it to be an emergency. The staff will be traveling to the test site on July 7th and the exam will be taking place on the 8th and 9th. We would greatly appreciate your cooperation and patience during this time by holding off on your calls until we are fully staffed again on July 10.

IN MEMORY OF JOYCE J. NEAVES

It is with deep sadness that we said good-bye to Joyce J. Neaves, a past President and Member of the Board of Nursing who passed away on April 3, 1992. A memorial service to celebrate the life of Joyce was held on April 7, 1992 at the St. Joseph Catholic Church in Kansas City, Missouri.

The "Joyce Johnson Neaves Memorial Scholarship" has been established at Saint Luke's College in memory of Joyce, who was a long-time faculty member. Joyce had a special interest in the education of minorities, and this scholarship will assist minority students attending Saint Luke's College. Contributions honoring Joyce's memory in this manner are being accepted at the following:

St. Luke's Hospital Foundation
P.O. Box 119000
Kansas City, MO 64111-9000

Joyce had many personal and professional accomplishments and she will be missed, not only by the Board of Nursing, but by the nursing profession and all those who knew her.

1ST ANNUAL NURSING SUMMIT ON HEALTH CARE REFORM

The Board of Nursing participates in a group called the Missouri Nursing Coalition. Other participants include Executive Directors or Vice-Presidents and Chairmen of the following: Missouri League for Nursing, Missouri Nurses Association, Missouri Organization of Nurse Executives, and Missouri State Association of Licensed Practical Nurses, Inc. That group has planned a conference to be held September 24, 1992 at the Ramada Inn in Jefferson City which will be titled: 1st Annual Nursing Summit on Health Care Reform. It is planned for the purpose of comparing several health care reform ideas including Nursing Agenda for Health Care Reform. Representatives of the Department of Health, ANA/MONA, NLN/MLN, MONE/MHA, MOSALPN and Board of Nursing will participate. Watch for mailings, you will want to participate. The subject matter is most timely and of extreme importance to health care.

REFLECTIONS

Rita Tadych, PhD, R.N.
Assistant Director for Discipline and Practice

DISCIPLINE. Thanks to the public-at-large, colleagues, and executives in health care facilities for prompt reporting of complaints with the MSBN based on your judgement that a licensee's actions may have violated the Nursing Practice Act and that withholding the information in order to avoid personal or professional difficulties would be equally inappropriate. Gratitude to those reporting who are not mandated to report.

Appreciation and support to health care system personnel who are endeavoring to educate themselves about chemical dependency in order to facilitate impaired nurses' recovery process through programs, contractual arrangements, pertinent policies and procedures.

PRACTICE. From the kinds of practice requests being received by the MSBN, it is apparent that you are interested in using your own license or a prospective/actual employee's license in safe and efficient ways to meet the demands for nursing care services in various environments. Thanks for your expanded and advanced practice questions and requests for MSBN opinions/decisions. Know that you can request information, opinions from the Board, and copies of MSBN Practice Committee public agendas by calling Connie at (314) 751-0073.

ADVANCE DIRECTIVES-HOW TO MAKE YOUR WISHES KNOWN

Many people are worried about the medical care they would be given if they should become terminally ill or injured and unable to communicate.

That's why a growing number of Americans are stating their health care preferences in writing - while they're still healthy and able to make such decisions - through legal documents called "advance directives."

A new federal law, "The Patient Self-Determination Act of 1990," that went into effect last December, is intended to increase our power to decide how we want to be cared for in the hospital.

Now whenever patients are admitted to a hospital, they will be told they have a right to prepare "advance directives" that make their wishes known about withholding or withdrawing life-sustaining care in the event of a terminal condition.

Q: What are "advance directives"?

A: Formal advance directives are documents completed in advance of serious illness or injury that state your choices for health care treatment, or that designate some one to make choices for you in the event you become unable to make your own decisions.

Through advance directives such as a Living Will and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care, you can make legally valid decisions about your future medical treatment.

Q: What does the law say about this issue?

A: Laws differ somewhat from state to state, but in general a patient's expressed wishes will be honored. No law or court has invalidated the concept of advance directives, and an increasing number of statutes and court decisions support it.

In 1990, the U.S. Supreme Court found in the case of Nancy Cruzan that the State of Missouri could require "clear and convincing" evidence of a patient's wishes in order to remove life support.

Formal advance directives can be critical to establishing clear and convincing evidence of a patient's wishes. It's always better to express your wishes and intent in some kind of written document than not to express them at all.

Q: What is a "Living Will"?

A: A Living Will is a document in which you can stipulate the kind of life-prolonging medical care you want if you become terminally ill or injured and unable to make your own decisions.

Most states have their own Living Will form, each with somewhat different requirements.

It's also possible to complete and sign a standard form from a stationery store, draw up your own form, or simply write a statement of your preferences for care.

A Living Will should be signed, dated, and witnessed by two people—preferably people who know you well but are not related to you, and who are not your potential heirs or health care providers.

You should discuss your Living Will with your family and your doctor, and you should ask your doctor to make it a part of your permanent medical record.

Although you do not need a lawyer to draw up a Living Will, you may wish to discuss it with him/her and leave a copy in his/her files.

Q: What is a "Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care"?

A: A Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care is another kind of advance directive: a signed, dated, and witnessed document naming another person to make medical decisions for you if you are unable to make them for yourself.

You can include instructions about any treatment you want or wish to avoid, such as surgery or artificial nutrition and hydration.

Q: Of the above two documents, which is better?

A: In some states, specific laws make it advantageous to have one or the other. Historically, Living Wills were developed first, and Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care documents were designed later to be more flexible and to apply to more situations.

Today the distinction between the two types of documents is becoming blurred. It's possible to have both, or to combine them in a single document that describes one's treatment preferences in a variety of situations and names an agent (proxy).

Q: How can I know in advance what I want?

A: Although it isn't possible to specify every possible procedure under every possible circumstance, it is possible to decide what kind of treatment you would want in most situations.

Preferences can be clarified by thinking about and discussing with your friends and family your views about death, being totally dependent on the care of other, family finances, the conditions that would make life intolerable to you, and how artificial life support would affect the dying process.

If you have questions about the kinds of procedures that are often used when illness is severe and recovery is unlikely, talk with your doctor.

Q: What if I change my mind?

A: You may change or revoke these documents at any time. Any alterations and revocations should be signed and dated, and copies should be given to your family, doctor, lawyer, and other appropriate people.

Even without an official written change, your orally expressed direction to your doctor generally has priority over any statement made in a Living Will or Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care.

Q: What if I fill out an advance directive in one state and am hospitalized in another state?

A: The law on honoring an advance directive from another state is unclear; but because an advance directive is a written expression of your intent regarding your medical care, it will influence that care no matter where you are hospitalized.

If you spend a lot of time in more than one state, you may want to draw up an advance directive in each state.

Q: If a comatose or mentally incompetent patient doesn't have a Living Will or Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care, who decides whether to withdraw treatment?

A: The decision is left to the patient's family, physician, hospital, and ultimately-a judge. Usually an agreement can be reached without resorting to the courts, often with the help of a hospital ethics committee (made up of doctors, nurses, social workers, lawyers, clergy, etc.)

On the state level she has served on the MONA Board of Directors, and is presently on the Missouri State Board of Nursing. An active member of the community, she has worked with Junior Football League, Little League Baseball, Scouting, Jaycees, Junior Service League, still participates in Pilot Club, and is Democratic Committee Woman from Lindenwood Township.

Cheryl: The Board and Staff of the Board of Nursing would like to congratulate you on receiving this very high honor, we're proud of you and your accomplishments.

CREDIT CARD INQUIRIES

We recently received a call from a nurse who stated she had been contacted by phone by an individual who claimed he was representing the Board of Nursing. He asked questions regarding where she did her banking, her social security number, etc. She very wisely did not offer any information to the caller and then proceeded to contact us to find out whether or not the call was legitimate.

Because of this we would like to state that the Board of Nursing is not conducting any surveys regarding credit cards nor endorsing any type of credit cards. If you are contacted by an investigator claiming to work for the Board of Nursing, he should be able to provide some type of identification to you.

EMPLOYEE OF THE SEASON

Each quarter nominations are accepted from staff members for an Employee of the Season. The following is a reprint of the most recent nomination followed by a little history and background of the winner.

EMPLOYEE OF THE SEASON NOMINATION

"I would like to nominate a person who is long overdue. She tackles every job with d e t e r m i n a t i o n and assertiveness. She never backs down from taking on anything new and challenging.

She has boundless energy, a great sense of humor, is always willing to pitch-in and help.

She always has a smile and volunteers to assist anyone who may need an extra hand. She is an asset to this office and I'm glad she's with us. So, my choice for Employee of the Season is Pam Campbell."

Pam Campbell was born in Wichita, Kansas and moved to Missouri in 1985. She presently resides in Russellville, Missouri with her husband Tim, and son, Shawn. Pam and Tim are expecting a child in August.

Pam came to work for the Board in April of 1989 and holds the position of Special Projects/Clerk Typist II. Prior to working for the Board Pam worked at Medical Business Office.

Her outside interests are bowling, fishing and traveling.

Congratulations, Pam Campbell.

DIVISION OF PROFESSIONAL REGISTRATION'S EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

We are pleased to announce that Linda Strobel, Senior Accounting Clerk for the Board of Nursing was named the May 1992 Employee of the Month for the Division of Professional Registration.

Nominations are submitted from employees of the Division and one person is selected from those names. We would like to share the nomination with you that was submitted for Linda.

"The staff of the Board of Nursing would like to submit Linda Strobel for consideration as "Employee of the Month".

Linda has been with the Board of Nursing for 18 1/2 years, the last 8 years as our accounting clerk. She performs a wide range of job duties in a timely, accurate and professional manner. It never seems to matter how busy she is, she never hesitates to stop what she is working on to assist anyone. She is loyal, dependable, seldom absent, very knowledgeable about her job, extremely conscientious and always willing to pitch in. She is kind and courteous not only to co-workers and the public, but to the many others outside the office that she deals with on a day to day basis necessary to perform her job. Most everyone in the Professional Registration building knows her either by sight or by name. Many times, some of those people have come to her for information and assistance and she is always willing to get them what they need. Linda is never satisfied with just finding an answer or solution to a question or a problem, she will always go that extra mile to find the very best answer or solution. That is just one of Linda's many outstanding qualities.

Every office has many hard working people who do their best every day and deserve recognition for those efforts, but in every office there is also someone who stands out and is appreciated by all for the kind of person they are and the work they do. The someone who fits that description in our office is Linda Strobel and we hope that you seriously consider her for the "Employee of the Month".

Congratulations Linda, the nomination says it all.
